Within this overall target, a sub-target of 18% has been prescribed for agricultural purposes.

The banks that are unable to fulfil their commitment towards agriculture. lending or priority sector lending are required to contribute a stipulated amount of Rural Infrastructure Development Fund (RIDF) maintained with NABARD for development of rural infrastructure through State Governments, the quantum of which depends on the corpus announced by Government of India each year. In order to disincentivise banks for not fulfilling their stipulated target, the rate of interest on RIDF deposits is kept inversely proportional to the shortfall in target, greater the shortfall, lower the interest.
